Dear Parents & Carers,

17 May 2019

We have had an exciting week at the Infant school. We all enjoyed a fantastic rock concert on Monday afternoon delivered by 'Rocksteady'. The children identified different instruments and had fun singing along to some popular songs. Rocksteady will be coming to assembly on Friday 14th June to demonstrate to parents how they deliver music lessons to children. If you would be interested in your child learning to play a musical instrument and becoming a member of a rock band then please come along to find out more.

Foundation Stage concerts

Well done to all involved in the Foundation Stage concerts this week. The children were absolutely fantastic, they sang enthusiastically and with confidence. It is simply wonderful to reflect on the progress that they have all made since joining us in September. Well done, children!

Author Visit – 6th June

We are very excited to announce that we will be visited by an author on Thursday, 6th June. Fifi Kuo has written several high quality, stimulating books for children including; 'I Can Draw', 'I Can Fly' and 'The Perfect Sofa.' In order to prepare for one of the special activities on the day, Year 2 children are requested to bring in an odd sock or odd glove that they no longer need... the odd sock/glove will be up-cycled into something new! Fifi will visit all classes on the day and share some interesting activities with the children. Further information on the visit and an opportunity to pre-order books will be available early next week.

Walk to School Week

Next week, we are encouraging as many active journeys to school as possible! Remember on Tuesday to wear comfortable footwear of your choice to celebrate 'Happy Shoesday' - a day which reminds us to have an active journey to school/work. Please see Miss Ketley's letter sent out earlier this week for further information.
